SYNOPSIS

The Nursery

In the nursery of the Darling home a shadow playfully dances then hides. Mr. and Mrs. Darling are going out for the evening as their children, Wendy, Michael and John, are getting ready for bed. After the children fall asleep, a strange boy, Peter Pan, enters the nursery. Peter Pan has been sneaking in to listen to Mrs. Darling read stories to her children. Peter has lost his shadow at his last visit to the nursery and is hoping to find it tonight.

Peter's Shadow

As Peter looks for his shadow, he accidentally awakens Wendy. He introduces himself and explains to Wendy that he's looking for his shadow. Wendy, helping Peter, finds his shadow and sews it back on to him. Suddenly, a chorus of playful Little Shadows (Tues Petite Ballet) joins the spectacle. Tinker Bell, a fairy who is always at Peter's side, enters the nursery and sees Wendy helping Peter. The Little Tinker Bell Fairies (Little Fairies Age 3-4) dance. Tinker Bell becomes very jealous of Wendy, and does not like when Peter pays attention to others. With the commotion, Michael and John awaken and get introduced to Peter and Tinker Bell. Peter explains that he and Tinker Bell are from Neverland and live with the Lost Boys. Peter offers to teach Wendy, Michael and John how to fly so they can go to Neverland too. Tinker Bell is furious with Peter, and does not like this idea at all. With a little practice they all fly out the window to Neverland.

Tinker Bell

In Neverland, Tinker Bell arrives at the Lost Boys territory. Tinker Bell, jealous of Wendy, tells the Lost Boys (Thurs Ballet B/C) to shoot her down from the sky, convincing them that Wendy is a bird. Peter, Michael and John arrive to find Wendy with an arrow in her chest. Furious with Tinker Bell, Peter banishes her from Neverland. Beautiful Revival Fairies (Sparkle Squad) arrive and revive Wendy. They all celebrate, and Peter explains to the Lost Boys that Wendy will be their mother.

The Pirates

Meanwhile, the pirates of Neverland, led by Captain Hook, are gathering. Hook's greatest desire is to capture Peter Pan. Captain Hook has had an awful encounter with a hungry crocodile, and now has a hook where his hand used to be. The crocodile likes the taste of Hook so much that he follows Hook everywhere, waiting for a chance to get another bite of him. The crocodile has also swallowed a clock, and its ticking warns Hook whenever the crocodile approaches. Little Crocodiles (Thurs Mini Ballet) join the relentless pursuit of Captain Hook.

INTERMISSION

The Forest

In the forest, the Neverland Princesses (Wed Petite Ballet and Tues Ballet E) dance. The Lost Boys tease the Princesses and they get into an argument. The head princess, Tiger Lily, settles the argument, telling the Lost Boys to leave. A few of the Lost Boys stay behind and hide, hoping to tease the princesses again. Captain Hook and his pirates arrive and kidnap Tiger Lily, hoping that Peter will try to rescue her, giving them a chance to capture Peter.

The Ocean

Peter decides to show Wendy, Michael and John Neverland's beauty. He takes them to the ocean side, hoping the fresh air and beauty will refresh Wendy. The Mermaids (Wed Ballet A), Dolphins (Mon Mini Ballet), and Starfish (Tues Mini Ballet/Lyrical) perform. As they relax, enjoying the magical sea creatures, a few Lost Boys arrive. They notify Peter that the pirates have abducted Tiger Lily. Peter devises a plan with the Lost Boys to free Tiger Lily, and they quickly leave the ocean side.

The Pirate Ship

Peter and the Lost Boys sneak onto the Pirates' ship. Peter, disguised as a girl, distracts Captain Hook, while one by one, the Lost Boys capture each pirate. Eventually Hook realizes Peter has tricked him, and they battle. Peter wins the battle and quickly rescues Tiger Lily. Tiger Lily is so grateful to Peter and the Lost Boys that she vows to be their ally.

The Lost Boys' Forest

All is quiet in the Lost Boys' forest as Wendy reads them a bedtime story. John and Michael are missing their parents and tell Wendy they wish to go home. Wendy agrees that she's a bit homesick too. She tucks them in to bed, and assures them that she will talk with Peter. Everyone is sleeping and just before Peter falls asleep, Wendy tells Peter of her and her brothers' desire to return home. She even invites Peter and the Lost Boys to come and live with them in London. But Peter refuses to go, because he wants to always be a little boy and have fun. Despite her efforts, Wendy cannot persuade Peter to come home with them, and the two fall asleep upset.

Tinker Bell's Revival

Tinker Bell, missing Peter and hoping to reunite, tip toes into the forest while the boys are sleeping. Before she can awaken Peter, she hears a commotion and hides. The pirates with Captain Hook seeking revenge on Peter, sneak into the Lost Boys' forest. They abduct Wendy, Michael and John, and Hook pours poison into Peter's cup. Alarmed, Tinker Bell awakens Peter to alert him that pirates have taken Wendy, and her brothers, and that Hook has put poison in Peter's cup. Peter, still angry with Tinker Bell, refuses to believe her. Just before he takes a drink, Tinker Bell grabs the cup from his hands and drinks the poison herself. As she collapses to the ground, Peter wakes the boys in alarm. Peter asks everyone to help by clapping their hands if they believe in fairies. The applause summons Pixie Dust Fairies (Little Fairies Age 5-7) who revive Tinker Bell. Everyone celebrates, then Peter asks for help to rescue Wendy, Michael and John from the pirates.

The Pier

At the pier where Captain Hook's ship is docked, Tavern Maids (Tues Ballet D) dance. Hook and the pirates arrive with the captured Wendy, Michael and John. Just as Hook decides to make Michael walk the plank, Peter, the Lost Boys, Tinker Bell and Tiger Lily arrive. Peter and his friends have an epic battle with the pirates, eventually overcoming the pirates. Peter forces Hook and his first mate Smee to walk the plank and join the hungry ticking crocodile in the sea. Wendy, Michael and John are set free and all celebrate their victory.

The Nursery

Back in the nursery, Mr. and Mrs. Darling sit up nightly hoping for the return of their children. Finally one evening Wendy and her brothers fly in through the window. Mr. and Mrs. Darling are overcome with relief and joy. The children relay their adventures in Neverland to the wonder of their parents. They decide to celebrate their reunion but Wendy lingers for a moment in their bedroom. She wants one last look through the window to remember Peter Pan. For a fleeting moment Peter appears for one last wave goodbye.

THE END
